Land manager consent

All projects that involve works (e.g. planting, construction) on a physical site will need support from the land owner or public land manager.

For the application stage, a letter or email showing in-principle support is enough. If your project is funded, you will need to seek formal approval before starting works. Formal approval takes time and may cost money - ensure you have taken this into account when designing your project.

Common public land managers include:

- Parks Victoria,
- Local councils
- DEECA

Private land owners include:

- Individuals & sole traders
- Businesses

If your proposed project covers land that is owned or managed by more than one organisation or person, you will need to seek support from each land manager.

For example, works near a waterway may need support from both water authority and your local council.

Note: Projects proposing awareness and education actions on public land may also need land manager support and an event plan (e.g. Parks Victoria Event Permits)

Group Health

Select the best description for your group/network

Trail blazers (thriving)

- Our group has its own identity and strives for excellence. We are the holder of expert knowledge concerning our area. We are clear on what we are trying to achieve and our role in achieving it. We determine the direction of work ourselves first and then seek suitable sources of resourcing. We know who can offer assistance and we tap into them when needed. We strive to ensure that

2025 Victorian Landcare Grants Wimmera

Form Preview

everyone in the district understands our role and is a member of our group. If any of our committee leaves, others will step up and our group would continue to prosper. We actively seek contacts and knowledge beyond our borders

Rolling along smoothly (strong)

- - We have an action plan that we actively work on. Our projects tend to be large in scale. Our committee is very motivated and can explain why the group exists, even if other members cannot. We have a broad and active membership. From time to time we actively seek contacts and knowledge beyond our borders. Our activities usually involve other organisations

Moving forward (OK)

- - Our group/network has an action plan, or intends to develop one. We feel we are making progress. We actively seek assistance from our support person, but we may still be dependent on a dedicated few. We are 'chugging' along, but we are not stretching ourselves right now - we are working within our current capabilities. We are happy within our own group borders - we rarely attend wider meetings or forums. Our activities do not usually involve other organisations to any great extent.

Struggling along with the same dedicated core (surviving)

- - Our activities are often prompted by a funding round or a call from the support person. Our office bearer positions were difficult to fill. We have few new members. We haven't got around to action planning yet, or we have one that we don't use. We don't all see the value of action planning. We tend to focus on single issues only, such as weeds or rabbits. We don't always talk about our group with pride.

Just hanging on (stalling or stalled)

- - We don't have an action plan (or we don't use it). Our meetings are irregular and only a few core members come, (or our meetings are non-existent). We don't really have agreed goals. There are little or no on-ground works happening, and if so it happens in an ad-hoc manner. We rarely talk about our group with pride. We have little contact with other groups and organisations and either don't have or don't access external support.
